

CHAPTER XXII

INTER-COLLEGIATE AND UNIVERSITY LECTURES

1. Post-Graduate courses may be conducted on the basis of inter-collegiate University lectures, so that special subjects comprised in the course may be dealt with by specialists in the subject. The Syndicate may also sanction affiliation in any branch of post-graduate study to a college, provided it is satisfied that specialised talent in the various fields of study are available in the college. The Syndicate may also sanction special lectures by the University teachers, who have specialised in various fields, for the post-graduate students in colleges.

2. On an application by the heads of two or more colleges, the Syndicate may sanction inter-collegiate arrangements for the delivery of courses of lectures jointly to the students of those colleges.

3. Attendance at such inter-collegiate lectures or University lectures shall be compulsory and shall be treated for purposes of attendance on the same lines as lectures in the colleges, and the minimum attendance prescribed shall be necessary for registering a candidate for the examinations.
